Land Conservancy offers scholarships

Jan 10, 2019

BOONTON – The Land Conservancy of New Jersey is celebrating 35 years of commitment to scholarship as a means of preserving the landscapes residents and visitors enjoy while protecting the State’s drinking water and other natural resources.

For almost as long as it has existed as a member-supported, non-profit land trust, The Land Conservancy has been providing two scholarships a year to residents of New Jersey pursuing degrees in environmental science, natural resource management, conservation, park administration, or related fields.

Their Scholarship Program appears to be unique in that it rewards environmental scholars who are not only from New Jersey but who also wish to return to New Jersey after college to pursue careers aimed at protecting the natural environment of their home state.
